

Financial Times Rankings

Stockholm School of Economics

BALTIC REGION RANKINGS

Program	2005	2006	2007
Business Schools	1	1	1
Executive MBA	1	1	1
Masters in Management	2	1	1

EUROPEAN RANKINGS

Program	2005	2006	2007
Business Schools	44	12	13
Executive MBA	25	14	18
Masters in Management	15	8	9
Executive Education general rank	17	15	12
–Custom Programs	20	11	5
–Open Programs	16	16	17

WORLD RANKINGS

Program	2005	2006	2007
Executive MBA	71	38	55
Executive Education general rank	39	34	31
–Custom Programs	47	35	17
–Open Programs	43	40	42

FT.COM

SSE in the news

Deans column: Clear vision that made Sweden world class

" Each spring, as I stand on the steps of Stockholm City Hall and present diplomas one by one to new graduates, I hope that each will make a positive impact on the world. Many will, of course."

[ft.com, March 2007]

" However, the 2006 prize for most improved European school goes to Stockholm School of Economics. After a lengthy merger with IFL, the new entity is making up for lost ground. SSE has risen from 47th place in 2005 to 35th this year."

[ft.com, May 15 2006]

" Stockholm School of Economics gained 12 places in the 2006 ranking and a further 18 this year. It is now in 17th position."

[ft.com, May 14 2007]

What the rankings show: Salaries rise dramatically

" A reader passing even the most cursory of glances over the Financial Times EMBA 2006 ranking would be struck by one fact: the year-on-year rise in average salaries reported by EMBA graduates has been dramatic."

[ft.com, October 2006]